

ARRESTED FOR PART IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

John Hoffman of Andersonville Accused by State Motor Police After Inquiry

DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED

Hoffman Said to Have Left Scene of Accident May 29 When Laurel Girl Was Hurt

John Hoffman of Andersonville was arrested at noon today and placed in jail by state motor police on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated, and leaving the scene of an accident without giving his name and address.

The charge dates back to May 29, when two machines figured in a wreck on the road south of here, and between Circleville and New Salem. In the collision Miss Wilma Straights of Laurel was badly injured, receiving severe cuts about the face, which required treatment at the Dr. Sexton hospital.

An effort to locate the driver of the car failed, although it is said that the machine that had caused the wreck contained the certificate of title of Mr. Hoffman.

Local police, a short time after the accident, received a call from Hoffman, stating that his car had been stolen from Andersonville. State police charge that Hoffman used this means as a decoy to avoid prosecution, and that he was driving the car, and according to them, they have witnesses who saw him leave the wreck after it happened.

He was placed in jail here and will be given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Thomas soon. In case the evidence is sufficient in the matter, and the court is convinced that the state has a case, the mayor can certify the cause to the circuit court for trial.

The accident happened May 29, the evening before the Speedway races in Indianapolis, and it is said that Hoffman was enroute to the races when the accident happened.

The injured girl was later removed to her home, and her face is badly scarred from the cuts received in the accident.

CASH STATEMENTS ALTERED, HE SAYS

John L. McPherson of Muncie, Former Vice President of Hawkins
Co., Witness For Government

HAWKINS INSTRUCTED HIM

One Time Official of Defunct Concern Describes False Methods of Book Keeping

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1—Alterations in the financial statements of the Hawkins Mortgage company to show an increase in assets were made several times with the personal knowledge of Morton Hawkins, former vice president of the company, John L. McPherson of Muncie, testified in federal court today.

McPherson was former auditor and vice president of the Hawkins Company and appeared as a government witness in the trial of Hawkins on charges of fraudulent use of the mails.

McPherson said that Hawkins "instructed" him as to bookkeeping methods of the company and declared that larger cash balances than were actually on hand, were frequently shown in the statements. Accumulations created by depreciation of the stock were carried on the ledger as income, he asserted. He said the company lost $26,000 in 1919 and that the deficit increased constantly until for the first five months of 1922, the operating loss amounted to a quarter of a million dollars. This loss, he said, was covered by sale of additional stock.

George Buist, Fort Wayne accountant, testified that he made an audit of the Hawkins Company in 1921 and that the audit was promptly rejected by Hawkins. The audit showed assets more than nine million dollars, Buist said. He also said his audit was rejected and another firm employed when he refused to make alterations suggested by Hawkins.

J. S. Egan, accountant for the department of justice, testified he made an audit of the Hawkins company books and found the loan societies lost half a million dollars in four years.

He asserted the entire common stock of the Hawkins company was not worth more than $700 and showed that only 38 of the loan societies incorporated under Hawkins direction ever did business.

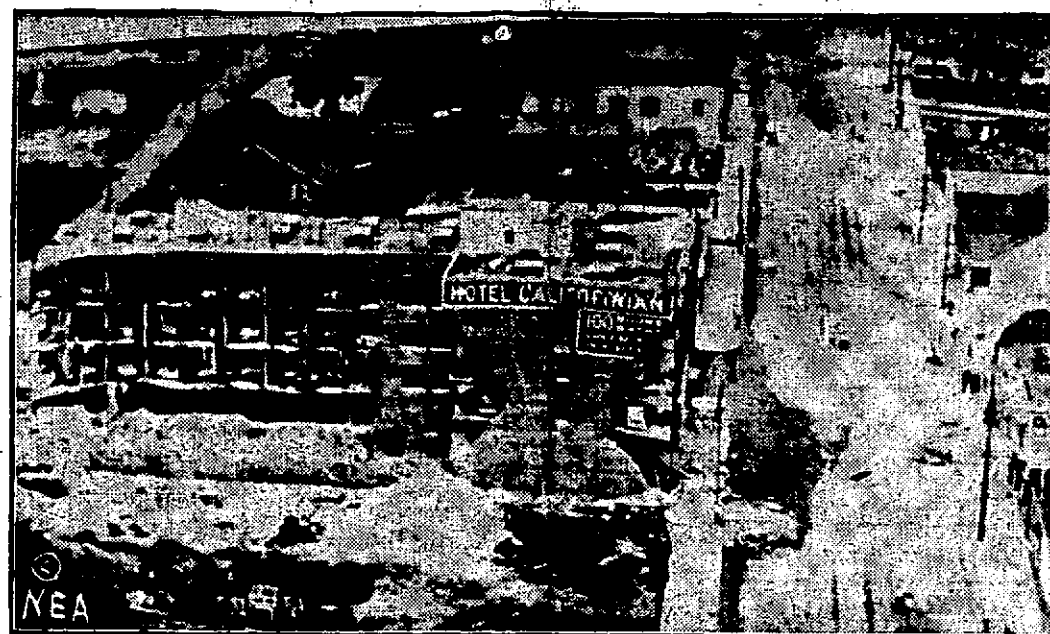

Numerous investors in Hawkins securities testified yesterday on their losses and the manner in which they

June Stages Comeback

June, the month of brides, set a good record and ran true to form this year, exceeding all previous months, according to Leonard Barlow, county clerk. During the month 22 couples secured marriage licenses. For June last year, only 15 licenses were issued.

The month of June also proved a banner month for domestic complications for pre-nuptial weddings, as eight cases for divorces were filed, which made the ratio almost one divorce complaint to every three marriage licenses issued.

Members of Cast in "A Day in Hollywood" go Through Parts Like

Scene in Picture, the Automobile Wreck, Will Take Place on the Public Square Thursday Afternoon at 1:30

Fine progress is being made with the filming of "A Day in Hollywood" two reel motion picture that is being taken in Rushville, with an entire local cast, and several scenes of interior views were "shot" in the Princess theater Tuesday night, before a large audience.

Tonight will be the last opportunity for persons to witness the filming on the stage at the Princess, as additional scenes will be taken, different from the ones taken last night.

The cameraman was busy today shooting more outside views, and the final filming will be held on Friday. The picture is being sponsored here by the Daily Republican, and will be shown to the public three days next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Princess theatre, instead of the first three days of the week as announced Tuesday.

The company directing the filming carries its own laboratory equipment, and develops its own films as they are made. They will be busily engaged Saturday and Sunday preparing the picture for the first showing on Tuesday. There will be a preview Monday for members of the cast.

One of the feature events of the week for the filming of the scene will be the automobile collision on the public square Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. In this wreck, all five of the principal members of the cast are seen in action.

Mrs. Hempeck, played by Mrs. Curt Hester, and the hero, Jean Kiplinger, race through the streets after Mr. Hempeck, Walter Hubbard, and Baby Ethel, Miss Rosalyn Reed. The rival appears when the two machines meet head-on. This part is played by Franklin Miller, who is also a newspaper reporter, and is on the "job", getting a story for the Daily Republican.

SANTA BARBARA IS SHAKEN BY TREMOR

DEBRIS IS CLEARED AWAY

City Authorities Turn From Relief Work to Gather Contributions For Rebuilding

(By United Press)

Santa Barbara, Calif., July 1—A very slight earth tremor shook Santa Barbara at 6:32 a. m.

The new quake caused no confusion whatever, and very little comment. Workmen in the upper stories of ruined buildings paused for a few minutes to assure themselves that the gentle cradle motion was not the fore-runner of one of the hanging shocks of the previous night and then resumed work.

The tremor was not severe enough to bring any additional debris to the streets. Slight dust clouds at one or two points were the only visible results.

With a respite of more than twelve hours since the last shock was felt, the energies and effects of the city administration turned today from relief work and vigilance to gathering contributions for the rebuilding of Santa Barbara.

A conservative appraisal by insurance underwriters placed the total property loss here at $30,000,000. Only $1,000,000 of this was

NEPHEW DROWNS AT MITCHELL

Mrs. Charles E. Worland Notified of Sudden Death of Boy

The sudden death of Orland Stroud, age 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stroud, of Mitchell, Ind., by drowning in Whiter River, just below that city, late Tuesday evening, has been reported in this city and as a result Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Worland, of this city, left this morning for Mitchell. Mrs. Worland is a sister to Mrs. Stroud and was very much shocked to hear of the tragedy. Worland is American express agent in this city.

The youth was learning to swim and got into deep water in an effort to save the life of his chum and as a result was drowned. The body was recovered from the river late last night and the chum escaped drowning.

TEACHING RESPECT FOR LAW IS TASK

Unsolved Problems in Teaching of Democracy are Those of Character
Education, Speaker Says

N. E. A. CONVENTION SESSION

Evans Woolen Tells Educators Classical Education Still Has
Place in Business Life

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1—The unsolved problems in the teaching of democracy are largely the problems of character education, Dr. J. O. Engleman, superintendent of schools at Terre Haute, Ind., told the National Education Association convention today.

"As teachers we cannot do less than set ourselves resolutely to the task of teaching respect for law and obedience to it," he said.

"We must teach respect for all laws, not merely for some laws, whether we like them or not. The problem of the schools is to arouse a civic conscience and a moral purpose in every student to live up to his political duty."

Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator, in an address before the convention last night, assailed attempts to amend senate rules as a direct blow at the fundamentals of American liberty.

"The principle of ultimate majorities on which the senate rules are based has stood the test of a century and a quarter," Beveridge declared.

"The direct result of a closure rule would be a flood of hasty and ill advised legislation. No good legislative proposal ever suffers from thorough consideration."

Beveridge declared he had never seen a measure backed by the "ultimate majority" of the nation defeated by abuse of senate rules during his twelve years in the senate.

A classical education still has a place in the training of the man who takes up a business life, Evans Woolen, Indianapolis banker, declared today in an address before the meeting of the American Classical League.

Woolen said the tendency of modern education is to discard the classics for so-called "practical" education.

TO GIVE A BENEFIT FESTIVAL

Young Men's Circle Announces
Event at Memorial Park

The Young Men's Circle of the Main Street Christian Sunday school will give a Memorial park benefit festival at the park Tuesday evening, July 14, and a meeting of the members of the class will be held Thursday evening to make preliminary arrangements.

The net proceeds will be turned over to the park committee of the city council to be spent as the committee deems advisable. A small sum will be used by the class, however, to pay the balance due on an ornamental boulevard light which the class contributed.

The class gave a benefit two years ago at the park and bought some valuable playground equipment with the proceeds.

WILL DISPOSES OF THE POWER ESTATE

Bulk of Property of Late John Power Bequeathed to Granddaughter,
Miss Viola Jay

TRUST FUND IS CREATED

Provisions Made For Distribution of Estate in Case of Her Death—
Few Bequests

The estate of John H. Power, who died recently in this city, involving approximately $60,000, has been probated in the circuit court, and his will, designating the beneficiaries and distribution of the amounts, has been spread on the probate record.

The biggest beneficiary to the estate is his grand daughter, Viola Power Jay, age 17, for whom a trust estate is created until she attains the full age of 30 years.

The will was made in November, 1923, and is lengthy, containing detailed instructions to be followed in carrying out the wishes of the deceased, and taking care of any emergencies that might arise within the 13 years period before Miss Jay comes into full possession of the estate.

While the estate is estimated at $60,000, which was the amount of bond furnished by the trustee, Will P. Jay and Eugene C. Miller, yet there was no listing of the amount in the inventory on real estate. The list stated that the probable value of personal effects was $47,000. The final settlement of the Power and Jay surviving partnership was also probated, and will be taken care of through the regular court channels.

In the will of Mr. Power, item one bequeaths $12,000 to Florine Graham of this city, for services rendered during his life time, and in item two bequeaths $7,500 for the same reason. The beneficiaries were reared in the Power homestead, but were not adopted children.

In item three, the Main Street Christian church of this city is to receive $1,000, to be paid within three years. The former two bequests are to be paid within five years.

Item four of the will states that all of the rest of the real, personal and mixed and real estate, wherever located, after the former times of the will have been completed with are bequeathed to Will P. Jay, Eugene C. Miller and Viola Jay.

The trustees are to manage, maintain, invest and control the estate.

by John Rogers Producing Company July 21 and 22

AUSPICES OF PHI DELTS

The local chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity has completed arrangements with the John Rogers Producing Company, to bring the musical comedy, "Princess Bonnie" to Rushville, July 21 and 22. It will be given at the Graham American auditorium and the proceeds will go to the Woman's Council and other worthy charitable organizations.

It has been three years since the John Rogers Producing company has staged a show in Rushville and they are sending one of their first directors to coach the show. "Princess Bonnie" is one of their best shows this year, and has a clever plot and catchy music, which has shown a big hit wherever it has been shown. The entire cast will be selected from local talent, one in charge exercising great care to pick characters suited to principal parts, and others will have an opportunity to perform in one of the many musical choruses.

The director is now on his way here and rehearsals will start the day of next week. Tickets will be on sale at an early date and the show is expected to be one of the home talent shows put on in recent years.

RUN OVER BY AUTO, UNINJURED SPEEDING ON STATE HIGHWAY

Gibson Ross, Jr., age 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Ross, 1027 North Perkins street, narrowly escaped serious injury this morning, when he was run over by a touring car in front of his home.

The little boy was playing across the street, and was starting back home, and ran in front of the car. The wheels did not pass over him, as he lay flat in the street. He received a bump on his head and was badly frightened, but was able to be out playing this afternoon.

The driver of the car stopped, but in the excitement that followed, the people in the neighborhood forgot to ascertain his name.

and for the express purpose of paying the grand daughter her share, which is to be 7-8th of the amount, and the one-eighth is for Mr. Jay. This trust estate is to continue until she reaches the age of 30, when it is consigned and delivered to her, and the trustees discharged.
Provisions are made in case one of the trustees should die, and which has been the case since the will was written. Benjamin F. Miller, one of the trustees named, died recently, and under such conditions the other two are to act, but in case they should die, then provisions are made for the management of the affairs to be in the hands of an Indianapolis bank.
A further provision is made in the event that Miss Jay should die before reaching the age of 30 years. If she should be married, and leaves a child or children, then her share goes to them. In case no direct descendants are left then provisions are made as follows: $10,000 goes to her father, Mr. Jay and $10,000 to the Main Street Christian church; $500 each goes to the two foster children, Florine Gronier and Elizabeth Gronier, and several $5,000 bequests are made to various institutions connected with colleges and missions of the church, with the balance being bequeathed Indiana University.

First Scenes For Moving Picture Made in Full View of Audience

air, a fire alarm box on the street corner is pulled, and down the street comes the fire trucks—but the best thing is to stop here, and let the picture tell the story for itself when it is shown next week.
The weather has been ideal for the filming of the outdoor scenes, and the audience at the Princess theatre Tuesday night was given a rare treat when several of the interior scenes were made. The members of the cast went through the performance in good style, and were just as ignorant of what they had to do, as the audience that saw them perform.
Director Fetty showed them how to do it, and it was necessary to repeat only one scene that was not up to standard.
In the laboratory Tuesday night the scenes taken during the day were developed, and Mr. Kennedy, the cameraman, was well pleased with results, and stated that the negatives were clear and came through fine.

TO SEEK TRIAL OF STEPHENSON FIRST

State's Attorneys Will Endeavor to Have Court Rescind Action Deferring Hearing

KLENCK CASE CALLED FIRST

Co-Defendant Succeeds in Obtaining Separate Trial—Judge Hines Calls Conference

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1—D. C. Stephenson will not escape immediate trial on charges of murdering Miss Madge Oberholtzer without determined opposition on the part of state's attorneys, it was indicated today.

The defense scored heavily yesterday by a ruling of Judge Hines in circuit court at Noblesville granting a separate trial to Earl Klenck starting Monday and ordering a later trial for Stephenson and Earl Gentry, the third defendant.

The motion was granted over oppositions of state's attorneys, who insisted that Stephenson go to trial first if the men are to be tried separately.

Charles Cox, special assistant prosecutor, expected to go to Noblesville today to ask Judge Hines to rescind his ruling granting Klenck trial Monday.

By forcing the trial of Klenck for Monday the defense will delay the trial of Stephenson, capital figure in the alleged kidnapping of Miss Oberholtzer, and force the state to reveal the evidence on which it hopes to convict Stephenson.

Noblesville, Ind., July 1—Judge Hines of the Hamilton county court today called a conference of attorneys in the Oberholtzer murder case to determine which of the defendants will go on trial next Monday.

Motion of Earl Klenck for a separate trial on charges of murdering Miss Madge Oberholtzer was granted yesterday despite objections of state's attorneys.

The defense asked that Klenck be tried Monday and that D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, and Earl Gentry, also under indictment for the girl's death, be tried at a later date.

Prosecutor Remy will demand that Stephenson be placed on trial first because the defense plans to have Klenck tried before Stephenson would force the state to uncover the evidence on which it hopes to convict the former Klan grand dragon.

The Third Commandment—
Thou shalt not take the name of

Be Worthy of America

Charles Evans Hughes said many timely things in his recent address in Boston on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of Bunker Hill.
And among other things Mr. Hughes called attention to the fact that we are not, as some people would have us believe, living in a decadent period, so far as popular government is concerned. Public officials, as a rule are more honest than they have been in any previous period in history.

"We find no reason for discouragement," Mr. Hughes said. "Incor-ruptibility in public office is more the rule than ever before. The standards of business life are more honorable than ever. We have the severe problems of an intensified industrial activity with the standardized large-scale production of machines, but we have a deeper interest in conditions of employment, and standards of living. No evil escapes investigation and insistent demand for correction. Our people are more generous in their treatment of one another; the press is fairer and personal abuse is more rare.

"Young America, if independent and assertive, is blessed with kindness and a sense of honor. In the great war we proved that the long period of prosperity had not lessened our physical stamina or impaired the resources of our spiritual strength; and our sons who went to France were as valiant as their forebears on Bunker Hill.

"There is much to be desired.
Crime too frequently goes unpun-ished. Consider, in detail, much political activity seems to be a welter of futile effort. The sense of individual responsibility for civic ills needs to be strengthened.

"But when we examine the records of the past the long story of revolt against tyranny, the disorder, the privations, the helplessness of multitudes and the mistakes of leaders, we may well rejoice at our own inheritance. The men of Bunker Hill made possible this heritage. Let us preserve it. It is not for us to make America, but to be worthy of her."

If you believe that the country is going to the dogs, it will help you to meditate upon these words of our former secretary of state.

Debt Cancellation

The war debt cancellationists have started a new offensive. Their inactivity left the impression that they had put up the white flag and retired in disorder.

Senator Frank Willis of Ohio,
member of the foreign relations committee, says no. The propaganda has been renewed and the senator blamed the international bankers
in an address delivered at Valley Forge.

Their only support is the contention that America has not done her duty to the world. The facts contradict them.

What does a hundred thousand graves on foreign soil mean? Aren't the maimed and disabled and the ruined young lives mute evidence yet that America did her part, in supplying manpower?

Spokesmen of the international bankers say America failed to fulfill her obligations financially. Was giving forty billion dollars to bring the war to a successful end dodging

our obligations?

Few Americans think so. The foreign governments must pay. If they don't, the American people will have to, when the Liberty bonds fall
due. It is not their debt, but Europe's, and Europe has to toe the mark.

The Enemy of War

Jesse Newton of Denver, Colo., president of the National Education association during the past association year, was applauded at the annual meeting in Indianapolis when he declared in an address that educators were in favor of the development of some system that will abolish war.

Who isn't, expect probably a few selfish men who profit from war?
Giving expression to such sentiment always draws applause because the American people are peace-loving, and the public schools have been more responsible for that sentiment than any other agency.

Though the schools teach patriotism and love of country, and reverence for the heroes who shed blood for the freedom now enjoyed, they also instill in the minds and hearts of American youth a dislike for war which will eventually bring about the system needed to end war.

This is not pacifism, but a thorough-going Americanism that is destined to outlaw the thing that is enemy to everything for which the schools stand.

SOMEBODY HAS TO BE THE GOATStewart's Washington LetterBY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Washington's
all excited over the Doheny
and Sinclair oil decisions.

The capital feels a proprietary interest in these cases. Here they started in the senate. Here they'll wind up, in the supreme court.

In the meantime Washington's watching developments, as they break out, here and there.

It's no exaggeration to say they've got her guessing—the shape they've been taking in, the last few weeks.

FIRST, Federal Judge Paul J.
McCormick of Los Angeles foiled Washington by deciding the Doheny case in the government's favor. Washington expected a decision the other way.

However, Doheny having lost,
"Sinclair surely will," thought Washington, for all the dope indicated that the government's evidence against the Sinclair lease was a good deal stronger than against the Doheny interests.

And then Federal Judge T.
Blake Kennedy of Cheyenne decided in favor of Sinclair.

JUDGE MCCORMICK found evidences of fraud in ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall's oil deal with Doheny. Judge Kennedy found no such evidence in Fall's deal with Sinclair.

There's nothing inconsistent in that. They were different transactions. There may have been fraud in one and not in the other.

Still, Washington was surprised.

Of the two, she had been a little less suspicious of the Doheny than of the Sinclair lease.

Fall and Doheny had been old pals. Doheny was the type of man to help out a friend who was in hard financial luck.

That, he said, was all there was to that $100,000 loan he made to Fall. It sounded a bit fishy, but Washington recognized there was a chance it might be true.

Sinclair, on the other hand, wasn't sized up as the kind of individual to let good money go for nothing.

Yet Judge McCormick refused to swallow the explanations of Fall and Doheny, while Judge Kennedy readily accepted those of Fall and Sinclair.

NEVERTHELESS, both judges
may—theoretically—be right
as to the matter of fraud.

They can't both be right concerning the question of the late President Harding's power to transfer control of the government's oil lands from the navy to the interior department.

Judge McCormick says Harding exceeded his authority when he made this transfer, that the land remained the navy's in spite of him; and that Fall's lease to Doheny was void because he was disposing of what belonged to another department.

According to McCormick, it was void regardless of the question of any crooked deal between Fall and Doheny—though McCormick added, incidentally, that the deal was crooked, too.

Judge Kennedy holds that President Harding did act within his rights, so the Sinclair deal is ok.

Kennedy agrees that it wouldn't have been okeh if Fall and Sinclair had framed it crookedly, but he finds no evidence that they did.

THE nub of the dispute to be settled on appeal is whether President Harding did what the law entitled him to do, or went too far.

If he went too far the leases to Doheny and Sinclair are no good,
and it's unnecessary, so far as the civil suits are concerned, to discuss the fraud issue.

If not, the leases stand, unless fraud is proved.

THE criminal cases still hang fire. Doheny probably will want to stave his off, hoping for a reversal of Judge McCormick's decision. Sinclair is apt to seek rapid action, before any higher court has time to spoil
Judge Kennedy's vindication of him.

The civil and criminal actions are different, of course, but courts have considerable influence with one another, back and forth.

RUTH INSPIRATION LOST FOR SEASON

Babe Himself May Get Back Into Game But His Spirit is Gone and He Would Be Ninth Man

TO HAVE X-RAY OF ANKLE

This Comes on Heels of Injury to His Left Leg and Ankle, Which Were Swollen Last Week

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 1.—The inspiration of Babe Ruth which carried the Yankees to the top of the American League in recent years is lost to the tribe of Huggins for the rest of the season.

The Babe himself may get back into the game, but his spirit is gone and he would just be the ninth man on the ball team.

Ruth is going to a hospital here Thursday to have an x-ray taken of his right ankle, believing the bone is chipped. This came on the heels of an injury to his left leg and ankle, which were swollen last week.

"I'll be lucky if I play again this season," the Babe said, his petulant, boyish mouth drooping even lower than usual. "And I certainly don't expect to have any luck."

Ruth is in one of those frames of mind that go with rainy picnic days. To add to his physical difficulties the Yankee slugger is reported to be in financial straits.

The farm at Sudbury, Mass., where the Babe once kept his promise to the kids of New York and got into condition for more homers than any one else, has been put up for sale, Ruth says he isn't disposing of it because he needs the money, but, on the other hand, it is not a sign of prosperity.

Ruth wants $50,000, for the farm

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Walter Johnson, veteran Washington pitcher, let the Athletics down with two scratch hits and pitched the Senators back into first place with a 7 to 0 victory. Jackson's fumble let in the run that gave the Braves a 3 to 2 victory over the Giants.

Buster Gehrig's home run helped the Yankees beat the Red Sox, 3 to 0. Sam Jones allowed only four hits.

Wilson's single in the eleventh inning drove in the run that enabled the Phils to beat the Robins 10 to 9.

Midget Adams doubled in the eleventh inning and pushed in the run that gave the Cubs a 1 to 0 victory over the Pirates. Kaufman pitched the shutout.

Five runs scored on a rally in the twelfth inning gave the White Sox a 6 to 1 victory over the Browns.

The Indians broke out of a slump that had cost them 14 out of their last 15 games and beat the Tigers 6 to 3.

and he is remaining in Boston, where the Yankees are playing, in the hopes of finding a purchaser.

"I certainly am down in the mouth when I think about my luck," he said. "Here I expected to bust my home run record this year. I never felt better in my life. Then I got knocked out and I have been flat on my back most of the time since."

If the x-ray examination shows that Babe's new injury is not serious, he may get into a good many games as a pinch hitter and possibly return to the lineup as a regular outfielder. But the best he and Miller Huggins hope for is a good fresh start towards new records and new inspiration for his team mates in 1926.

A foul tip glancing from the Babe's bat struck his right ankle during batting practice here a week ago, but at the time he paid no attention to it. Later the ankle became badly swollen.

Take More Socks at Age

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 1.—That gentlemanly known as Youth will get the recognized challenger of Jack Dempsey, meets Charley Weinert, the comeback Jersey heavyweight, in a fifteen-round bout at the Polo Grounds.

Weinert isn't the sprightliest nor the youngest representative of youth, but he is not as old as Wills, who is the eldest of all the fighters since Tom Gibbons had his career finished by Gene Tunney.

There will be another opportunity for age to take a smack when Harry Greb, the veteran middleweight champion, exposes his chin to the youthful Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion. Greb isn't an old man according to the ordinary standards, but he is old for a fighter and he has been in the game for a long time, while Walker is only getting a good start.

The whole heavyweight situation, which was altered when Gibbons went down and Tunney went up may be simplified as a result of the Wills Weinert fight. Unless Wills wins decisively, he cannot hope to be considered as the first challenger of Dempsey or the successor to the title if Dempsey lets the public know that he has retired.

On the basis of the bad showing that Wills made against Barley Madden and Luis Firpo and the better showing that Weinert made against Firpo, it would seem that most anything could happen when they meet tonight. There are some who claim that for political purposes, Wills was forced under a full in his fights against Madden and Firpo and that there is so much at stake he will let loose against Weinert and show what he really is.

Weinert is no sucker and it is not believed that he could be prevented upon to do business because the heavyweight situation is becoming so open that almost anyone may stand for a shot at the title. Weinert one time was considered as the best prospect in the class, but he went the way of Broadway and knocked himself out of chances. He seems to have been serious in the announced intention of coming back when he took up matrimony, and if he is trained well he will be anything but a mark for Wills.

Billy McCarney will be back of Weinert and there are bound to be many and bad squawks if Wills attempts to employ his favorite trick of hitting and holding. Although it is strictly against the rules, Wills for some reason, seems able to get away with it with any referee. He fouled Firpo by hitting him on the breakaway and knocked him down, but the referee didn't say a word and the seconds in Firpo's corner were too green to know what it was all about.

Wills can have no excuses. If he is not good enough to beat Weinert with some demonstration of class he is not good enough to deserve any sympathy from a public that may believe he has been given a very rotten deal from Jack Dempsey. In refusing to fight Gibbons, George Gould frey and Jack Renault, Wills gave reasons to believe that he was looking merely for a big loser's end with Dempsey and that he was afraid to show himself up by meeting a good man.

training" which does not give the student the necessary cultural background and breadth of business.

"Next to open-mindedness, business needs in the youth it takes over from the schools and colleges the capacity to think with concentration and precision," Woolen said.

"It needs clear thinking youth for the long pull more than it needs vocationally trained youth with their temporary advantage.

"Increasingly we have coming to us youth confident that their training in business courses has fitted them for business and we find too often that they have neither open-mindedness nor the capacity to think with concentration and precision nor the habit to work induced by discipline of the spirit."

"Decreasingly we have coming to us youth humble in the hope that old-fashioned education in the classics and mathematics has not unfitted them for business and we find they are those on whom we count for the future.

"I do not know why the old-fashioned courses do the work, but I am sure they do—sure that the substitutes attained with practicality do not, and that is why I believe in classical education.

"The last time interfered with the employment manager it was to say that I wanted a position for a youth of whom I had learned that he was one of three in a large class who had eschewed business courses and taken Greek."

When Better Automobiles Are Built, Buick Will Build Them

Question: Why is it that there are more than a million Buicks in use today?

Answer: Because Buicks are always popular with new car buyers and also because Buick's dependable construction results in a much longer life for Buicks than is ordinarily the span of service of a motor car.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Casady have announced the wedding of their daughter, Miss Phyllis, to William Farrell Kimberling of Shelbyville, the ceremony being performed in Louisville, Ky., Friday, May 15. The announcement comes as a surprise to the many friends of the bride in this city and also in Shelbyville, both of them being prominent young people among the younger social set.

The bride is a member of the Tri Kappa sorority and also attended Indiana University. Mr. Kimberling is engaged with the Chambers Fireless Cooker Company of Shelbyville, where they will be at home to their friends at 16 Colecott street.

Approximately two hundred and seventy-five attended the guest day meeting of the Pastor's Aid Society of the Main Street Christian church, held Tuesday afternoon at the church, and at which time the guests included members of the ladies aid societies of the other churches of the city. A splendid program was given in the Sunday school room, which opened with the devotional period, conducted by Mrs. B. F. Cato, and followed by a short business session. Mrs. C. E. Waldon sang a beautiful solo, followed by music by the Dean trio. Mrs. Gladys Osborne gave a group of readings and a playlette entitled "Mrs. Sullivan in Politics," was the feature of the program. Miss Helen Gray also sang a solo.

After the program the guests were invited to the basement of the church, which was appropriately decorated with large baskets and bouquets of summer flowers and potted plants. Dainty refreshments were served by the two sections captained by Mrs. Will Knecht and Mrs. Will Frazier. During the social hour Miss Maxine Brown rendered music on the piano.

The wedding of Miss Lavangh Scholl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Scholl of Glenwood, to Stuart Garrison of Cincinnati, Ohio, was performed Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in Glenwood, the Rev. George Scholl, a great uncle of the bride, of Baltimore, Maryland, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated for the wedding in a profusion of summer flowers arranged in wall pockets, tall vases and baskets, the color scheme of white, rose and blue predominating. Preceding the ceremony a program of bridal aires was rendered by Miss Garnet Larue, pianist, and Miss Dorothy Brown, violinist, of Connersville and during the wedding Miss Elizabeth Wellen of Cincinnati, Ohio, sang "Became" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." At the strains of "Lo-hengrin's wedding march the bridal procession entered the church, led by the bridesmaids, Miss Helen Lambert of this city and Miss Hazel Murphy of Connersville. Both girls were dressed in charming dresses of blue georgette trimmed in shaded tulle. The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Sarah Scholl who looked beautiful in a peach colored georgette. All the attendants carried bouquets of pink roses. The little flower girl, Phyllis June Scholl, niece of the bride, preceded the bride, who was lovely in an oyster white chiffon trimmed in lace and wore a wedding veil caught in cap effect by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The best man was Harwood Garrison, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were John Petzhold and James Beeman of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding luncheon was served on small tables placed on the lawn and the bridal party was seated at the dining table in the house. The color scheme was pink and white and the place cards were white hydrangeas and rose buds.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrison left on a wedding trip to Michigan and will be at home to their friends after September first, at 3454 Berdun Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio. The bride is a graduate of Miami University and for the past two years has been teaching in the Cincinnati schools. She is a member of the Chi Omega sorority. There was no looting and no pilfering. A milk man driving away from the Guadalupe Catholic church with empty bottles led to a remark that a man had been seen "removing vessels from the church" and this was distorted into a report of looting.

Chief of police DesGlandeham told the United Press there had not been a single instance of looting or disorder.

Conrad Nagel at Castle
 "Cheaper to Marry," Samuel Shipman's dramatic success from the New York stage has been brought to the screen by Robert Z. Leonard for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and will be seen at the Castle theatre today.

And at last a play has been filmed without a single fundamental change in the plot. "Cheaper to Marry" was screened with unusual fidelity to the playwright's original story.

Based around a man's contempt for conventions, the picture, with its startling ending, brings out with realism that "free love" does not pay. The basic story is a powerful one, and under the skilled direction of Mr. Leonard, producer of all Mae Murray's biggest successes, a beautiful picturization of the guy whirl of modern social life provides the background for the intense dramatic action.

On the screen "Cheaper to Marry" has an exceptionally fine cast, including Paulette Goddard, Conrad Nagel, Lewis S. Stone, Marguerite de la Motte, Louise Fazenda, Claude Gillingwater and Richard Wayne.

Colleen Moore Picture

Colleen Moore was never more delightful than she is revealed today at the Princess theatre in her latest First National attraction, "The Desert Flower."

The picture, an adaptation of the stage offering of the same name, recently presented in New York by Al Woods, teems with the action and color of Western life. It presents

Miss Moore in the pathetically poignant guise of little Maggie Fortune, step-daughter of a brute of a step-father, section boss of a railroad construction gang on the desert, and whose inherent instincts for the better things of life seek to find expression through a baby sister, whom she sends away to enjoy the refinements of a real home and education, while she herself goes into a mining camp dance hall to provide the wherewithal of it all.

Now in this rough environment she yet wins and retains the respect of all, and through her budding love for the errant son of a fine Eastern family redeems the recalcitrant rolling stone and extracts her own reward from a world that yields happiness all too reluctantly, is compellingly set forth by the gifted little star.

SELMAN WEBB UNDER KNIFE

Selman Webb of this city, who has been living with his daughter at Ben Harbor, Mich., is recovering from an operation for the removal of a cancer from his face, according to word received here today. His condition is reported to be favorable.

ODD FELLOWS NOTICE

Hot Weather Hints

A suit, dress or any other garment is so much cooler and more comfortable when it is clean and a suit looks so much neater and more dressy when it has a good press in it.

Don't neglect these facts, for personal appearance counts much and it must not be right just in cool weather and neglected in warm weather. To dress well and look nice, means the year 'round—not just at times.

No other Refrigerator built like this

The White Frost is circular—no corners in which impurities or dirt may gather. The interior parts, shelves and ice container may be quickly lifted out, making it easy and simple to clean. The inside and outside are enameled, keeping it always sanitary. Its revolving shelves do away with reaching and spilling of contents of dishes and make every bit of space available.

SOME "KICKS"

Most of us common folks hanker after an occasional kick in life to make us forget our regular jobs. Now about the easiest way to put a lingering kick in our systems is to spend, each day, a little time out in the sunshine, next to old Mother Nature.

As an experiment I have assembled a little bunch of men developers that if purchased soon will produce the non-poisonous kick you need.

Here's what they will do for you—

Garden Tools—

A pair of blistered hands, a lame back, and a good appetite.

Golf Clubs—

The most fun you ever had and an increased vocabulary.

Base Balls—

Two crooked fingers, a bent thumb, and one sore arm.

Tennis—

Love 15, Love 30, Love 40, a hat-full of love and a more interested wife.

Lawn Mower—

A caved-in "tummy," a harvest-hand odor, and a beautiful lawn.

Fishing Tackle—

A chance to lie like a gentleman, and get away with it.

Golf Balls

An opportunity to chase something, legitimately.

If the above flock of kick producers doesn't appeal to your idea of joy and health in the open, come in and we'll sell you a Carpet Beater.

P. S. — We will be closed all day Saturday, July 4th. Open Friday Night before.
